

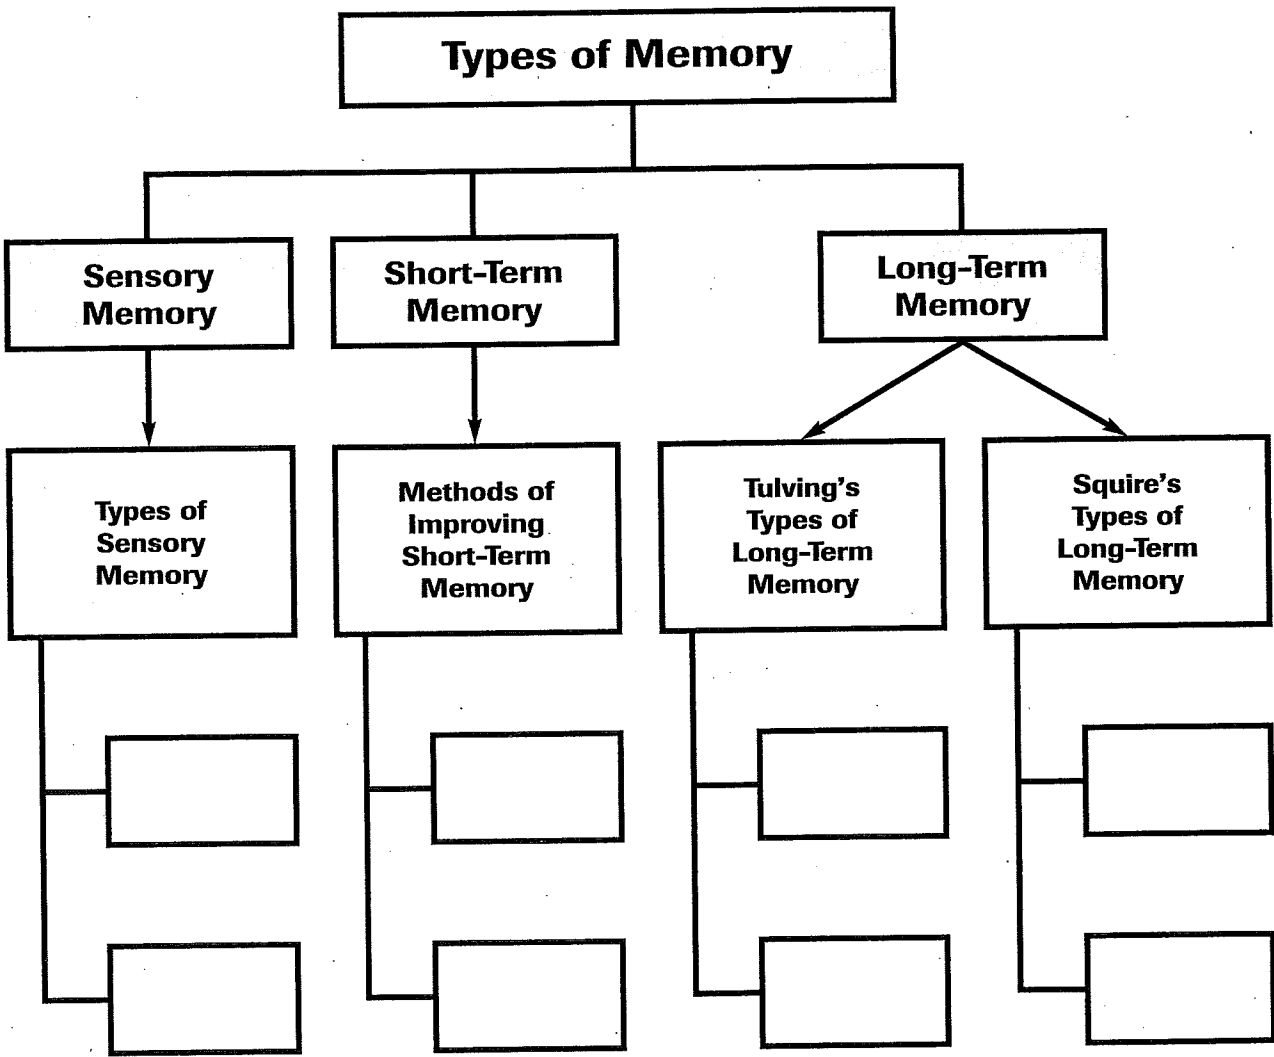

Graphic Organizer Activity 10

Three Types of Memory

Directions: Psychologists have distinguished three types of memory: sensory memory, short-term memory, and long-term memory. Complete the graphic organizer by listing the two types of sensory memory, and two methods of improving short-term memory. Psychologists disagree about the types of long-term memory. List the two types of long-term memory proposed by Endel Tulving. Then list the two types of memory proposed by L.R. Squire.
